

More educated women tend to be the ones who choose to birth at home in developed countries like the United States. But it should be a choice that every woman is empowered to make for herself and her baby. With mother and baby morbidity and mortality rates higher in U.S. hospitals than they have ever been in the past 70 years, it is so vital to really look at what is going on. With death rates from childbirth in U.S. hospitals continuing to rise, women must be informed of WHY this is taking place, and how they fit into the picture.
